Expanded Details

John gave a brief review of last year's "activities", some of which "went right and some of which we didn't achieve". The first five topics are expanded upon here.

1. Internet at the SAV has been "off and on" for some time. We have looked at getting our own internet service at the SAV; will look to Ron Philips for more feedback on this.

2. Ron has also had “issues” with the club repeaters throughout the year; sometimes they are working, sometimes they are not. John offered that, perhaps it is time to consider buying a new repeater in light of the fact that it is hard to get to the repeater at Elephant Head to effect repairs. John emphasized that Ron and done a “superlative effort” at keeping our repeaters operational. However, some of the repeater equipment, both at Elephant Head and the SAV may be reaching “end of life” issues.
3. Remote station operation of the club station: There appears to be a lot of interest in the ability to “remote operate” the club station. This may be a subject to include in the new “member survey” in order to assess exactly how much interest there is in adding remote operating capability.
4. Something that did go well was “in person” meetings. The picnic at Amanax Park was a real “breath of fresh air” and in person gatherings are very important to our club. We just experienced a year where we were “shut down” from in person meetings due to “covid”. John encourages the club to do more “in person” events, to include regular club meetings, drive outs, picnics, etc.
5. John mentioned that Jeanne Crane had mentioned a “Silent Key Memorial” and that it is something that should be added to our club website.
6. Rick, K7RCR, received an email from the Citizen's Core Emergency Response Committee which has invited us to an upcoming meeting where they are going to “make an effort” to “re-activate” the Green Valley (and, hopefully Sahuarita) “Emergency Response Group”. Rick has made the assumption that they would like the GVARC to be a part of this. Rick will follow up and get more information.
7. Winter Field Day: John Perlick has agreed to be the committee chair for WFD and has obtained permission from the Green Valley Fire Department to, again, use the same, indoor room which was used in the past for FD (2019). There is also the possibility of using that same facility for our club meetings; however, John has not broached that subject as yet.
8. The subject of the antenna situation at the SAV was discussed at length and it was proposed that we purchase a new antenna, specifically, the Alpha Delta DX-CC, which is available at HRO in Phoenix for about $160.00. Several other options were considered and it was agreed the Alpha Delta, multi-band dipole is the best choice for installation at the SAV. A motion was made, seconded and passed that the club purchase the Alpha Delta antenna from HRO and those volunteers from the membership would complete the installation in a few days after receipt of the antenna.
9. There was much discussion of participation, or lack thereof, by the membership in club “activities”. It was noted that the GVARC is one of the largest, if not THE largest ham radio club in Arizona with a membership of nearly 150. However, typical activities, meetings, events, nets, operating events (such as FD), etc. seem to only garner a handful of participants. Rick has generated a “member survey” which has been emailed to the membership; however, the number of surveys returned has been “dismal”. Several suggestions were made for additions/modifications to the survey in hopes to increase the response and to help determine what will 'motivate' the membership to become more involved in club activities. Rick has requested suggestions for ways to modify and/or improve the survey. He will then make any applicable changes and “re-send” the survey.

The meeting was adjourned at 3:04 pm.
